About JA It's My Business

Teachers organize their classrooms into teams who solve a common problem by creating a product or service. Teachers lead the students through lessons about the entrepreneurial thinking process, where they experience the steps needed to get a business idea off the ground. Students then develop "Shark-Tank"-like pitches to sell their ideas to big-time investors. This is where JA volunteers step-in.

The Volunteer Experience

JA It's My Business Volunteers visit a classroom in groups of 2-3 "Sharks" to listen to student teams' pitches and decide which business idea they'd like to back with their fictitious $1M investment. Volunteers then serve as JA Career Speakers, presenting their personal education pathway and career story to the class with plenty of opportunities for Q&A.
